

Mrs. Delphia A. Taylor

August 13, 1929 - October 29, 2015

Mrs. Delphia A. Taylor entered into eternal rest on October 29, 2015 at Vidant Medical Center Greenville, N.C. Funeral service will be held at 12 Noon Wednesday November 4 at Faith and Deliverance Church Kinston, N.C. Pastor John Flowers Officiating. Viewing will be from 5-7 PM one Tuesday November 3 at New Hope Church Ministries 508 South Queen St Kinston, N.C. Internment will be at South View cemetery Kinston NC. she is survived by her Daughter Edna Glenn of Clemmons, NC , her Sons Percy Taylor Jr. of Kinston, NC and Jimmy Taylor of Cary, NC her Sister Ellen White of Trenton, NC, Five Grandchildren and Six Great Grandchildren. Services Entrusted to Fonville & Dove Mortuary, Kinston, NC

Tribute Wall

EF

“ My condolences to the family. "Earth hath no sorrow that heaven cannot heal". God continue to comfort you in this time of sorrow.

Eleanor Frazier - November 04, 2015 at 11:08 AM

BN

“ Brenda Nicholson lit a candle in memory of Mrs. Delphia A. Taylor

Brenda Nicholson - November 04, 2015 at 08:50 AM

CT

“ Carolyn Taylor lit a candle in memory of Mrs. Delphia A. Taylor

Carolyn Taylor - November 04, 2015 at 08:04 AM

G(

“ My memories of Aunt Delphia (Duke) is she always had one of the BIGGEST hearts, loving soul, bubbly personalities and softest smiles that would light up the entire room. I love you so muchhhhhhh, Aunt Duke and mommy/I will dearly miss you, tremendously. Thank you for all the prayers, advice, hugs, slaps on my big thighs and the "love" given. You were the BEST; along with my other Aunts and Uncles, who have gone on to heaven to see God.

I will state this, my Aunt Duke was a Christian woman and she wore how much she dearly loved her entire family (especially her children) and God on her face, everywhere she went. She was a faith worshiper and could tell you about the Bible, the church, our family history and/or especially, how to bake or cook. I remember my mother (sister Elleen) dropping by Aunt Duke's house on Saturday afternoon and she would be in the kitchen cooking and baking lemon pies for church services the next day. The house smelled heavenly and after looking at the pies while mommy and her was talking; Aunt Duke would say: "have some, as I made plenty...". Those pies were so good. I tell you. In fact, I can still remember how good they were and how sweet they tasted. Now, my Aunt Duke could "cook"..., now!

Also, I just always loved to hear Aunt Duke laugh. And she would always pick on me about my hair, pretty clothes, cars and fat thighs ---looking just like your mother. She would say to me: "you wear your heart on your sleeves" and it's ok hun.

Almost every day, Aunt Duke would always called to check-in on her sister, Elleen Abrom White; and most of the time it would be daily around 7:20pm. That time slot was there for her and my mommy to always chat for a few minutes and just see how things were going.

That's enough, I will truly miss my Aunt Duke!!!! Just know you are loved, or was loved and adored my many!!!!

Gwendolyn E White (niece) - November 04, 2015 at 05:14 AM

G(

“ My memories of Aunt Delphia (Duke) is she always had one of the BIGGEST hearts, loving soul, bubbly personalities and softest smiles that would light up the entire room. I love you so muchhhhhhh, Aunt Duke and mommy/I will dearly miss you, tremendously. Thank you for all the prayers, advice, hugs, slaps on my big thighs and the "love" given. You were the BEST; along with my other Aunts and Uncles, who have gone on to heaven to see God.

I will state this, my Aunt Duke was a Christian woman and she wore how much she dearly loved her entire family (especially her children) and God on her face, everywhere she went. She was a faith worshiper and could tell you about the Bible, the church, our family history and/or especially, how to bake or cook. I remember my mother (sister Elleen) dropping by Aunt Duke's house on Saturday afternoon and she would be in the kitchen cooking and baking lemon pies for church services the next day. The house smelled heavenly and after looking at the pies while mommy and her was talking; Aunt Duke would say: "have some, as I made plenty...". Those pies were so good. I tell you. In fact, I can still remember how good they were and how sweet they tasted. Now, my Aunt Duke could "cook"..., now!

Also, I just always loved to hear Aunt Duke laugh. And she would always pick on me about my hair, pretty clothes, cars and fat thighs ---looking just like your mother. She would say to me: "you wear your heart on your sleeves" and it's ok hun.

Almost every day, Aunt Duke would always called to check-in on her sister, Elleen Abrom White; and most of the time it would be daily around 7:20pm. That time slot was there for her and my mommy to always chat for a few minutes and just see how things were going.

That's enough, I will truly miss my Aunt Duke!!!! Just know you are loved, or was loved and adored my many!!!!

Aunt Duke,I love you!

*Stay Blessed Family,
Gwendolyn White (niece)*

Gwendolyn E White (niece) - November 03, 2015 at 11:07 PM

JS

“ I became acquainted with Mrs. Taylor in 1977. She cared for both of my older children n later cared for my grandsons and grand daughter which are also her grandchildren. She also enjoy looking over my younger two daughters as well when they attended Rochelle Middle school. She has been a blessing to our family in general. Later she established a relatively good relationship with my current husband Wendell Styles n has sowed so many good seeds in the lives of our children n grandchildren. She will always be remembered for her sense just wanting care for others. I love you Mrs. Taylor and I will always remember yo yr acts of kindness.

Jacqueline Styles - November 03, 2015 at 01:43 PM

JG

“ condolences and sympathy. from the Grimes' family

John & Evet Grimes - November 03, 2015 at 09:36 AM